

Symposium on Small Computers in the Arts

November 20-22, 1981
Philadelphia

Three days of:

tutorials
workshops
demonstrations
paper presentations
film/video showings
prints and plots gallery

and:

The 4th Annual Computer
Music Concert

The Symposium is being held to increase the participant's awareness of the use of computer technology in the audio and visual arts. The Symposium will offer a range of presentations from introductory tutorials to sessions on advanced techniques.

Workshops will encourage hands-on experience with the most current equipment in graphics and music. Registrants will receive a copy of the proceedings and a resource guide to small computer music and graphics equipment.

The Symposium will be held at the University City Holiday Inn on the Penn Campus. Rooms are available on a first-come-first-served basis for manufacturers to set up demonstrations and/or exhibits. Due to the hands-on nature of the Symposium, the attendance will be limited to 250 registrants. Rooms will be available at reduced rates for early registrants.
